AL BAHITS ANNEF

Nagoya, Japan | albahitsannef@gmail.com | +81-9203-7397 | linkedin.com/in/albahitsannef | bit.ly/AlBahitsA

Early-career development economist working on the intersection of technology adoption, firm productivity, and institutional quality in emerging markets. Former ADBI research intern; nearly three years delivering donor- and government-facing capacity-building projects across the Asia-Pacific.

EDUCATION

Graduate School of International Development, Nagoya University Nagoya, Japan
M.A. International Development (Economic Development), MEXT Scholar (2024), GPA 3.89/4.00 April 2025 – March 2027

Universitas Pembangunan Nasional Veteran Jakarta Jakarta, Indonesia
Bachelor of International Relations, Outstanding Student (2020), GPA, 3.92/4.00 August 2018 – September 2022

RESEARCH AND PUBLICATIONS

- Too Crowded to Grow? Luminosity-Based Evidence on Village Cooperative Finance in Indonesia — Published, International Journal of Social Economics (2026) - doi.org/10.1108/IJSE-11-2025-1107
  - Calibrated nighttime-lights GDP proxies against village-level spatial data to identify how competing cooperative and microfinance models affect localized economic activity.
- Corruption Does Not Occur in a Vacuum: Firm Bribery, Institutional Quality and the Management Role — Pre-print available at https://dx.doi.org/10.2139/ssrn.6956239
  - Integrated formal and informal firm-level microdata with a Subnational Corruption Index (SCI) to reveal that bribery acts as a "sand-in-the-wheels" friction, lowering firm output by 5–16% and labor productivity by 5%, highlighting the need for complementary institutional reforms.
- Generative AI and Formal Employment: Evidence from Indonesia — Pre-print available at https://ssrn.com/abstract=7108818
  - Exploited an occupation-based GenAI exposure measure with Indonesian labor survey data and a Diff-in-Diff design, I find that after GenAI's public launch in 2022, Indonesia experiences 1.1–1.4 lower formal jobs.
- AI, Productivity and Firm Resilience: Evidence from Indonesian Manufacturing — Under review on Journal of Asian Economics
  - Exercised PSM and IPWRA methodologies on STATA on a matched Indonesia Medium-Large manufacturing firm dataset, quantifying a 17–32% productivity different across specifications and modeling heterogeneous AI returns across sector intensities.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Research Assistant, Graduate School of International Development – Prof. Isamu Okada Nagoya, Japan (Sep-Dec 2025)
- Assessed socio-economic acceptance of green hydrogen and renewable energy transitions across literature across Southeast Asia markets; developed analytical frameworks and research questions.

Research Intern, Asian Development Bank Institute (ADBI) – Dr. Rachita Gulati Tokyo, Japan (Sep-Oct 2024)
- Constructed and cleaned comprehensive ESG and financial datasets from 30+ Indonesian institutional reports utilizing STATA, enabling robust quantitative analysis of ESG-financial performance correlations.
- Conducted literature review and drafted analytical policy briefs synthesizing empirical evidence on ESG disclosure, providing direct analytical inputs for ADBI policy recommendation.

Associate Project Manager, Cietra Indonesia Utama Jakarta, Indonesia (July 2021-Mar 2024)
- Co-led end-to-end execution of 10+ international capacity-building projects, including managing a $100,000 sustainability startup capacity building project in APAC; achieved an average of 95% budget adherence and 80% of target participation rate.
- Managed end-to-end project lifecycles, including concept note and proposal drafting, budget planning, developing preliminary research and report writing, while documenting an average of 32% measurable improvement in participant capabilities in all projects.
- Fostered strategic partnerships with 10+ key stakeholders across government ministries, private sectors, and international organizations, both domestic and international, securing a 60% collaboration acceptance rate.

Policy Analyst Intern, Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Indonesia Jakarta, Indonesia (June-July 2021)
- Authored 20+ daily regional policy briefings on economic and political issues in the Americas, achieving a 70%+ zero-revision acceptance rate by Senior Diplomats

TECHNICAL SKILLS AND LANGUAGES

Econometrics: Firm, Household, Individual-level panel microeconometrics, Diff-in-Diff, PSM, IPWRA, BMA.
Software: STATA, Python, LaTeX
Languages: Bahasa Indonesia (Native); English (Full Professional Proficiency); Japanese (Daily Conversation).

LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE

Indonesia Student Association in Nagoya (PPIJ Nagoya) Nagoya, Japan
Chairman October 2024 – October 2025
- Led a 60-member multicultural organization to drive a digital strategy that increased content engagement by 120% and improved measurable organizational activeness by 20% YoY. Launched first-ever student-led Indonesian Coffee Day and Indonesian Day in Nagoya that invite 50+ locals.